

ODISSEI Privacy Statement

The privacy statement informs you of which personal data ODISSEI processes and how you can exercise your privacy rights.

Who we are

ODISSEI (Open Data Infrastructure for Social Science and Economic Innovations) is a consortium of member organisations for the development of a social science data infrastructure.

The consortium leader of ODISSEI is the Erasmus University Rotterdam (EUR), currently with project manager Lucas van der Meer MSc. The privacy regulations of the EUR apply for the activities of this project. The EUR handles personal data with care and acts within the limits of the General Data Protection Regulation \(GDPR\). For more information, please see the Privacy Statement of the EUR.

The purpose of this website

The ODISSEI website provides information on the facilities that are supported by ODISSEI. It is also possible for you to register via the website for different events and the newsletter, among other things. As shown in the ODISSEI Conditions of Use, ODISSEI is not the owner of any research data.

What are personal data?

The GDPR states that personal data refers to all information on an identified or identifiable natural person. This means that the information either refers directly to someone or can be traced back to that person.

Indicators that ensure that information can be traced back to you include, for example, your name, your e-mail address and your IP address.

Why do we process personal data and whose personal data do we process?

OBJECTIVE	PERSONAL DATA	WHOSE PERSONAL DATA
Functioning of website Participation in events	Functional cookies; anonymous analysis First name and surname, e-mail address, organisation (and position, on a voluntary basis), sometimes dietary preferences. During events on location , photographs may be taken. You can state in the registration form that photographs of you may not be published. You can also always state this at a later date. We do not share any personal data during online events . Depending on the event, the application used and the settings that we and/or you choose, your name may then be visible to the other participants. We ask participants not to record during online events (where possible, we will also set the application used not to record).	All visitors to the website Participants in events

Newsletter	First name and surname, e-mail address, preferred language	Persons who have registered for the newsletter (and have not deregistered).
For contact with the member organisations	First name and surname, e-mail address, telephone number and position	Contact person of the member organisation

Legal grounds

ODISSEI processes personal data on the basis of consent or a legitimate interest.

Consent given for the use of personal data can always be withdrawn again later. Objections may be filed against processing of data on the grounds of a legitimate interest.

See also under the 'Access, rectification and erasure requests' heading.

Sharing data with third parties

The personal data gathered by ODISSEI are not shared with third parties unless this is necessary in order to realise the processing objectives. A business e-mail address may occasionally be shared on request, since this contributes to the network objective of ODISSEI.

For how long is data kept?

The personal data are not kept for longer than is necessary to realise the objectives for which the data were gathered.

Access to, rectification or erasure of data?

You may address an access, rectification or erasure request at any time to the Data Protection Office of ODISSEI by sending an e-mail to dpo@odissei-data.nl. In all cases, clearly state that this concerns a request on the basis of the GDPR.

In all cases, you will receive a reply within one (1) month of the receipt of a submitted request.

Technical and organisational security of personal data

Within ODISSEI, we treat the personal data gathered as confidential. We do this through appropriate technical and organisational security measures. To provide optimal protection against unauthorised access or use, all personal data are kept at a secured location.

Contact

If you have any specific questions or comments concerning this privacy statement in response to this information, then please feel free to contact us. You can click the Contact tab on the ODISSEI website for this. You can also send an e-mail directly to dpo@odissei-data.nl or to privacy@eur.nl (the EUR Data Protection Officer).

You are also always entitled to lodge a complaint regarding the use of your personal data to the Dutch Data Protection Authority.

This privacy statement was last amended on: [11.11.2021]. We reserve the right to make changes to this privacy statement where and whenever necessary.